

ADAM EPSTEIN CREATIVE CONSULTANT

Adam Epstein's diverse career has included positions in industries ranging from entertainment to hospitality to investment banking, and has included responsibilities in management, finance, sales, marketing, and strategic growth. He has worked with firms ranging from start-up to Fortune 500, and he has provided strategic consulting for an equally broad range of companies and concepts. He is currently developing a new entertainment project in Las Vegas.

He has completed three marathons, bicycled across the United States, competed in the Empire State Building Run-up, and been honored as an Olympic torchbearer.

Adam graduated from Harvard College, cum laude in Economics, and earned his MBA from Kellogg School of Business (Northwestern University) in Strategic Planning, Marketing, and International Business.